Invitation to “Recent Advance in Acne Treatment” Symposium

Acne, as one of the most common dermatological diseases happened on adolescents and adults, requires concomitant maintenance treatment to avoid recurrence or remission. While topical medications are effective in treating mild to moderate acne, recent studies have shown that combination therapies enhance efficacy and work more effectively than standalone therapeutic agent.

To introduce a positive approach that may enable physicians to achieve better effectiveness with their acne patients, The Federation of Medical Societies of Hong Kong (FMSHK) and GlaxoSmithKline (GSK) have the pleasure to invite Dr. Alessandra Alio to conduct a seminar on Friday, 10th January, 2014. In the seminar, Dr. Alio will review current acne treatment plans, clarify misunderstandings on antibiotic resistance and introduce the combination therapies used for better acne treatment. Interested parties please complete the reply slip below and fax it to GSK at 2116 9551 on or before 6th January, 2014.
